HELD FOR GRAND JURY.

Squire Fitzpatrick yesterday held for the grand jury Albert Crogan and Mary Holmes, charged with unlawful cohabitation; John Bentz, jumping a bond bill; and Vas Divell, theft.

ON A PATERNITY CHARGE.

Constable Anderson yesterday arrested John Ahl, a laborer, of the Eighth ward, upon a paternity charge, preferred by Lottie Wagner, also of the Eighth ward. Ahl was taken before Squire Fitzpatrick and furnished $500 bond for his appearance before the circuit court.

PROGRESSIVE EUCHE.

The second of a series of progressive euche parties to be given to the members of the Carroll Club, occurs to-morrow evening, and from the interest displayed it will be a delightful affair. Play begins promptly at 8:15 o'clock, and an enjoyable feature will be the refreshments served by a corps of young ladies. This part of the entertainment will be in charge of Miss Tenie Schafer.

The third of the series will be given Thursday evening, November 25. These functions are among the most successful ever planned by the club.

In Clerk Robertson's Office.

In County Clerk Robertson's office yesterday, the following deeds were recorded:

Mary Kalbitzer and C. Kalbitzer to August Fisher, lot No. 75, in what was formerly known as La Grange addition, South Side; consideration, $750.

John H. Ewing and William L. Ewing to Edwin C. Ewing, their one-fourth interest in real estate in Shriver's addition, East Wheeling; consideration, $2,000.

A deed of assignment was recorded from M. Levaux, proprietor of a jewelry and notion store at 1193 Market street. E. Buckman is named as assignee.

THE BURGLAR

That Entered Mr. Morris' Second Hand Store, a Fighter.

MORRIS BEATEN BUT HELD ON.

TIMELY ASSISTANCE OF SHERIFF RICHARDS AND OFFICER WALKER PROBABLY SAVED THE CLOTHING MAN'S LIFE—THE FELLOW HAD TWO CONFEDERATES, BUT THEY GOT AWAY—A DESPERATE CHARACTER.

Shortly before midnight there was placed behind the bars in the Ohio county jail, a young man who gave his name as James Moore, charged with burglary. He entered the clothing store of M. Morris, 1139 Market street, and he was arrested after a desperate struggle.

Morris keeps a second hand store, at the number designated, and adjoining his place is a "blind" alley. This alley about 10:45 o'clock, was the scene of a severe struggle between Morris and Moore, and the cries of the former for help came nearly too late. He caught the stranger darting away from the rear of his premises, and in attempting to hold him was badly beaten. He yelled for assistance, and the first to reach the scene was Sheriff H. C. Richards, who grappled with the burglar. Officer Walker accompanied later arrived, and jerked the fellow away and put him under arrest.

When taken before Squire Fitzpatrick Moore pretended to be drunk. His vest was almost torn off his back, and the big gash on his forehead told of where the stick yielded by Morris in the fight, had landed. Squire Fitzpatrick committed him to jail for a hearing November 11, at 1 o'clock. Moore was taken to the county jail in charge of Sheriff Richards and Constable Anderson. They had to carry him up the jail steps, and he fought all the way in. He was searched, but nothing was found on him, excepting a small note book, in which were addresses of two persons, living at Baltimore and Pittsburgh.

Mr. Morris, who came to the justice shop to have the warrant served out, is a middle aged man of good physique. He stated that a shoemaker living in the rear of the store, sounded the alarm of burglars being in the store. He came down stairs and running out his back door to the alley, caught sight of Moore, fleeing with a big bundle of clothes in his arms. He closed in on Moore, but the latter showed fight. Then Morris swung a stick over the fellow's head. The fellow had two companions who came to his assistance, but Morris made a "bluff" at drawing a revolver, frightening them off. Moore tried to get away after he was struck, and in the struggle struck Morris in the face and breast several hard blows, but the clothing dealer held on to him. Finally he clutched Morris by the throat, and was doing this effectively when Sheriff Richards and Officer Walker arrived.

Moore is a hard looking customer, of powerful build. During his stay in Squire Fitzpatrick's office he refused to hold his head up, and tried hard to make it appear that he was drunk. The authorities are certain he has served time before, and his general appearance bears out this belief.

DEATH OF "TUDE" KRAFT.

Louis Kraft, better known as "Tude," Kraft, died yesterday morning about 9 o'clock, at his mother's home in the Fifth ward. He was stricken with severe pains about the heart Monday afternoon and he gradually sank until the hour mentioned. He was known to nearly everybody in Wheeling, and was of a bright and genial temperament. His one failing was the only one ever recorded against him. He was about forty years of age and unmarried.

BEAUTIFUL GOODS

O'NEILL, The Photographer.

THE statement in last Sunday's Register, relative to the case which was tried last Friday evening at Justice Greer's, to the effect that Miss Emma Walt had been convicted of grabbing $12.50 from one, Louis Sweeney, was an error. Mr. Sweeney claims that the young lady grabbed his ring, a statement which Miss Walt indignantly denies, claiming that he had given the ring to her. She claims that she is innocent of any wrong-doing and has appealed her case to the circuit court for the purpose of proving her innocence.

THE HUB—CLOTHIERS AND FURNISHERS.

We've Taken ...A Stand

In your defense for worth against worthlessness—in defense of honest quality at an honest price—against the treachery of cheapness that seeks to blind you against its imperfections with the glitter of dazzling bargains. Every force in the great business—capital, experience, earnestness, enterprise, consistency—are enlisted in a crusade against shoddy—against misrepresentation—against fakism—against the wolfish greed that preys upon the confidence of the people, whose only ambition is to untie your purse strings, whose shortsightedness sees no future—we're waging a campaign of education. Our advertisements are lessons in value discernment, in price conception. Where all is fair and square there's nothing to hide.

They praise the perfection and shun the shams that stalk under the disguise of trade disasters and kindred metaphors. They preach this store's sincerity—tell its honest story plainly, for the facts need no decoration, the truth no decoy. The cold weather will soon be with us, and an Overcoat will be a necessity. We have them in every dependable grade and style. A good Blue or Black Kersey Overcoat at $6.50. An elegant strictly All Wool Kersey Raw Edge Overcoat at $8.00. Our special Gayrock Overcoat, strictly All Wool, guaranteed all satin sleeve lining, double warp Italian lined, in Blue, Black, Brown and Tan, at $10.00. At $12.00, $15.00, $20.00 and $25.00 we show a line of Kerseys, Chinchillas, Meltons, Montagnacs, Vicunas, etc., for which your merchant tailor will ask you double our price. Come in and see them, try them on, take them home, and if you'd rather have your money, it's here for you for the asking.

Matinee at the opera house this afternoon.

Opera house to-night—The Three Star Comedy Company.

John Hawkins, a well known tin worker was married last night to Miss Anna Davis, of East Wheeling.

The lecture by Rev. Dr. A. Moore, on "The Manly Man," which was to have been delivered at the North street M. E. church Friday evening, has been postponed until next Thursday evening, November 18.

This evening at Zion Lutheran church a musical and literary entertainment will be given by the Symphony society of the church. Elaborate preparations have been made for the affair, which is partly in honor of the anniversary of Luther's birth.

ABOUT PEOPLE

Strangers in the City and Wheeling Folks Abroad.

Miss Mary Proudlock, of Pittsburgh, who has been spending several weeks with friends in the East End, leaves this morning for her home.

Col. R. B. Yowell, who has been here for several days organizing a lodge of the Royal Tribe of Joseph, left yesterday afternoon for Huntington to institute a large lodge which has been in process of organization. Quite a list of charter members for the lodge to be instituted in Wheeling has been secured, and Col. J. B. Peyton is securing others. The lodge will be instituted in a week or so, after Col. Yowell returns from some work he has as state organizer elsewhere.

AMUSEMENTS.

A new comic opera that is highly praised for its "snap" and "go," as well as the charming quality of its music and the humorous character of its story, will be the attraction at the opera house next Monday and Tuesday. It is entitled "Kismet" or the "Two Tangled Turks," and is the work of Richard Correll, the well known comedian, and Gustave Kerker, who has already enjoyed the distinction of being the composer of half a dozen or so of the most popular comic operas, all of which are enjoying the favor of the public today. Minerva Dorr, who heads the company, is too well known to theatre goers to require special mention. She is a thoroughly conscientious artist and combines rare quality of voice and dramatic ability beyond that of any other prima donna upon the American, or possibly any other stage. In the title role of "Kismet," the sultan of Turkey, she has a part that displays all the grace and charm of her personality as well as her rare artistic accomplishments. Edwin Carroll stands among the first of American fun-makers and has rare opportunity in this opera. The supporting company is a rare and excellent one. The stage setting of the opera is exceedingly handsome and picturesque, and the costuming has all the elegance and luxuriousness characteristic of life in the sultan's palace.

GUS HILL'S NOVELTIES.

During the past few years vaudeville entertainments have grown in popularity, at the expense of other stage performances. Since vaudeville has become the fad, Gus Hill has taken a foremost place among the amusement caterers. His name in connection with any theatrical enterprise, has come to be regarded as a synonym for excellence. One of Hill's very best companies is the World of Novelties, which is booked for the last half of this week at the Grand Opera House, with the usual Saturday matinee. The company includes some of the strongest acts on the vaudeville stage, and is certain to be greeted by crowded houses.

THREE STARS COMPANY.

Crowded houses were the rule at both the performances given in the Opera House yesterday, by Van Osten's "Three Star Company," and the rule is certain to hold good for the remainder of the week's engagement. At yesterday's matinee, "The Burglar" was the bill and last night "The Clipper" was given. Both performances were put on in excellent style, and the specialties deserved the many encores demanded. A feature in the "Miss Philadelphia" ladies orchestra. The sterling comedy, "Rip Van Winkle" will be presented at today's matinee, and the drama "Forgiveness," to-night. Popular prices.
